Portrait of Betsy Betsy Howard, Leland William Howard, 2011-04-28 She wasn't a dog anyone wanted. Bald from the nape of her neck to the tip of her tail, she was a scrawny little black dog with little to recommend herself to anyone other than the little tricks she used to perform to amuse people. A loser dog. But then I wasn't a person anyone wanted either. A loser in the eyes of the world. A neer-do-well named Jamie Fairchild who at the age of forty-one had tried his luck in many places and invariably had failed. For twenty years I had become a stranger even to the members of my own immediate family. I didn't want a dog. I wasn't even looking for one. But God has a way of intervening regardless of our hopes, dreams, and personal wills, not necessarily giving one what one wants but what one needs. They told me you needed me. Betsy told me who told you. My superior officers she smiled, elevating her chin toward heaven. Things hasn't been goin' so well with ya these past twenty years. I hear tell ya had big dreams once but you went bust. Was homeless. Jes like me fer awhile. I also hear tell them folks of yours ain't much of a family. But then mine weren't neither. I hears ya likes adventure, ain't afeard of takin' risks. I ain't either. I also hear tell ya likes to perform. I does too. But ya lost your confidence along the way. Well, I'm here to give it back to ya. Before long Betsy was putting me through my paces. Ah, ten-tion, shed bark at me. That's what our C.O. always barked at the fellas I worked with in New Guinea. Saunders was his name. Man, he was a doll, but he could also be one mean sonofabitch. Let me tell ya. When Saunders barked them orders, them guys all shot up straight as ramrods. Shoulders up, ass in chest out. Now lissen up, Pop. Ah, ten-tion, Git that chin up. What goods it doin' hangin' down thataway on your collarbone. Well, no one would be able to cuff me under it if it's hanging down. Lissen, Pop, she would say. No one's gonna cuff you under the chin. And if they does, I'll take care of em, so good they won't need to wear no shoes. No one messes with a Marine. Not if they know what's good for em. Now lissen up, Chin up. Shoulders back. Ass in. Awkward as these unaccustomed positions felt to me, I complied with her commands. Yeah, her muzzle widened into a grin. That's more like it, Daddy. If Betsy had set me onto the road of physical exercise, she also corrected my posture. If it hadn't been for the disciplines that she imposed upon me, I'd now be a walking question mark. Why are ya walkin' with your shoulders down on your chest, shed bark. You wanna be a hunchback one day? No, I said. Then stand straight and stop hangin' your head. She said, How are ya ever goin' to see where you're a goin' lookin' down at the ground all the time? You look at the ground when you sniff. I'd say, Yeah, but that's only to get the smell of direction. It's in the dog world what you call a map in the human one. But ya caint go nowhere by always lookin' at the map. Time comes when you've gotta keep your eye on the road. That is, was the army now, and I had become Private Jamie to Sergeant Betsy. When I would slump down into that easy chair, one of whose armrests she had completely disemboweled and had sunk into those pointless ruminations about what I should or should not have done so many years before, Betsy would approach my feet and deposit at them the tug-o-war rope, fall back on her rear haunches, her big brown eyes shining with excited anticipation, her muzzle dropped open in an eager smile. Come on, Dad, let's play. Oh, please, not now, Betsy. I'd say, Oh, yes, now. She insisted, Come on. What goods settin' there goin' over things you caint do nuthin' bout. When you does stuff like this, you're like me when a flea gets on my tail, and I keep tryin' to bite it off of it, but the more I turns around that tail, jes keep gittin' further away from me. Memories is like fleas, Dad. You chew on em too long, they gets your tail sore. Ya gotta keep your eye on your star. There's one up yonder, that's yours, and yours alone. Keep your eye on it, and it won't be forgettin' ya. You jes take a hold on my tail, Pop, and I'll take ya to your highest dreams.

Sh*t Sandwich Steve Stauning,2017-07-12 No one succeeds without sacrifice can we all agree on that The problem is that most every book on the subject of success misses the big picture by ignoring all the little pictures Think about it while there have been plenty of books that claim to help anyone achieve the near impossible like wealth beyond their wildest dreams the fact is that most everyone on the planet has their sights set on something a little more realistic and way more rewarding That is their goal is simply to live a great life Living a great life is the epitome of success can we all agree on that Great Based on the two axioms we ve all agreed on Living a great life is what we all want and living a great life takes sacrifice The interesting thing about sacrifice is that it s not the huge bold public sacrifices one makes in life that drive the most success but rather the small seemingly insignificant sacrifices we make or avoid every single day that have the greatest positive or negative impact on our life and the lives of those around us I call these shit sandwiches All successful people ate shit sandwiches to get where they are today In fact the more successful they are the more shit sandwiches they ate The funny thing about shit sandwiches however is that the more successful you become the more shit sandwiches you have to eat to stay there Shit sandwiches are those little sacrifices hardships or unpleasantness we undertake every day to achieve some common or personal good and everyone who wants to succeed eats them As you ll read in this book great employees eat a lot of shit sandwiches Great leaders eat a lot of shit sandwiches Great husbands wives brothers sisters mothers fathers boyfriends and girlfriends all eat a lot of shit sandwiches Successful people in work or in play all eat their share shit sandwiches Are you ready to start eating your share
